

Day 10 - Random Act of Christmas Kindness - Culver's

Today is Day 10 of my Random Act of Christmas Kindness. It was also a day of Christmas shopping for me. As I finished shopping for the day, I was hungry and decided to get something to eat at Culver's. Since I was by myself and wanted to start for home soon, I decided my "Random Act of Kindness" would be to pay for the order of the car behind me in the drive through. This unsuspecting person was about to receive a free meal. When I told the cashier that I wanted to pay for the car behind me, she was not surprised. My guess is they have other customers do the same thing.

Have you ever done this? I would be interested to hear if you have.
