

Day 11 and 12 - Random Act of Christmas Kindness - Clean Cars

Today I was in search of dirty cars! What does this have to do with "Random Act of Christmas Kindness" you say?

Well, I was looking for dirty cars because I wanted to give a free car wash to two vehicles! Funny thing is, my car was dirtier than the two I found (this happens when you live on a gravel road)! I am calling this Day 11 and Day 12. To be honest, I was busy yesterday with my latest blog post and the temperatures were really, really cold. Yes, I am a cold weather wimp! So the wimp I am, I decided to call the two car washes for days 11 and 12. Who am I to argue with?

Today, the temperature was considerably higher - we were at a balmy 24 degrees. Warm enough to use the car wash. So will there be two cleaner cars in town?
