

Farmer Gifts for Valentine's Day

Valentine's Day will be here before we know it. If you struggle, like I do on what to get your farmer on Valentine's Day, I have compiled a list of personally hand-picked suggestions. My list of suggestions is for both men and women because we know both genders farm. These are my personal favorites. Hopefully, some of these may work for you too. (About half of the links are affiliate links where I receive a small amount of compensation.)

Pecans - You're Nuts - We love these pecans. You can order pecans directly from a pecan farm. I stumbled upon this store on our drive to Florida. Located in Georgia. I order a few packages of these pecans and store them in my freezer. They are the best!

Bacon Capital Clothing - Who doesn't love bacon? Did you know there is a Bacon Capital of the U.S.? A great way to show off your "bacon pride." Why not buy a T-Shirt or Sweatshirt for your Bacon-Loving sweetheart? This is a relatively new site so they don't accept credit cards. But don't let that stop you. Mail them a check and they will mail out your order.

Martin County Magic Seasoning - Speaking of bacon, I love this seasoning. It goes on everything pork. Living in the heart of pig country, this is a staple. Everyone uses it. In fact, some people use it on popcorn and tator tots. This seasoning was created from a group of Martin County pig farmers. And, yes, you can use it on other types of meat.

Wool socks - I hate cold feet and I love wool socks! I wear them daily this time of year. Check out wool socks for women and wool socks for men.

Bluetooth Headphones - If you love listening to music, podcasts, etc. these bluetooth headphones are the best. I didn't realize how much I enjoy not being tethered to a cord. And they work really great at the gym. Speaking of working out, does your loved one have a FitBit? Here are some other bands that work with FitBit. I have one and I love it.

Amazon Echo - I received an Echo for Christmas. The more I use it, the more helpful uses I find. My favorite use right now is how easy it is to put items on my shopping list and set reminders for myself. No more paper shopping lists (that are sometimes misplaced). My next goal? Use some of the smart home functions.

Yeti Rambler and Coolers - I won a yeti tumbler a couple years ago and didn't realize how nice they are. My drink is either always cold or hot. How nice it is to be in the tractor and always having your drink cold or hot. For hours. The coolers are nice also. Spoil your Valentine with this gift!

Pioneer Woman - Who doesn't love Pioneer Woman kitchenware. When my family wonders what to give me, they know buying my Pioneer Woman is always a hit. The pieces are too numerous to list them all here, so feel free to check out my store and browse the Pioneer Woman pieces I have selected. Believe me, there are many more to choose from. My family knows if they struggle finding a gift for me, they will do no wrong buying me Pioneer Woman pieces.

Compart Family Meat Packs - Who doesn't love a good, juicy piece of pork? Did you know you can order meat packs from this Minnesota pork farmer family? And the best part--I know them. You will not be disappointed. They have won numerous BBQ competitions with their pork. Enjoy. And you're welcome!

Minnesota Winery Passport - If you live in Minnesota, you know the number of wineries has exploded in recent years. Why not purchase your Valentine a Minnesota Winery Passport. Each passport entitles you to 10 separate wine tastings (2-10 samples) and any of more than 40 wineries in the state. No joke here. What a great gift!
